

Practice arrangements

In order not to disturb my consultations and other work, I am not available by telephone.

Urgent matters can always be reported by e-mail: dr.kinet@gmail.com

First appointments, too, can only be made via this e-mail address.

Questions about this will be answered by Monday at the latest.

For a first consultation, please bring your identity card because of the third-party payer scheme.

Changes to appointments are to be discussed in person as much as possible.

Given the full diary, unforeseen absences must be reported at least 72 hours in advance.

Otherwise a missed-appointment fee in the order of your own contribution will be charged.